Student Variety Show Ends Run

"International Night," an authentic variety show of folk and ethnic songs and dances closes tonight.

The feature event of tonights' performance will be a portrayal of a genuine Arab wedding with traditional color and regalia, according to Saleh Alash, co-chairman.

Special ballet numbers for the show have been choreographed by Mr. Anatol Juokowsky, former ballet master of the opera in Belgrade, Yugoslavia. Commentary for the program will be delivered by Miss Raana Husain of Pakistan.

Other entertainment will include the performance of the Filipino Tinkling, dance of the bamboo sticks. Carlos Carvajal of the San Francisco Ballet Company will represent Spain.

The Overseas students of the college have planned a complete program of songs and dances from many countries including Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Pakistan, Russia, India, Austria, Yugoslavia, France, Spain, Scotland, Latin America and Canada.

Contributing groups will include the Women's Choral Dance group of San Francisco and the Modern Dance group of S. F. State college.

"The show, which opened last night," stated Alash, "was very well received and a capacity group is expected tonight."

Admission will be $1 for the general public and 50 cents for holders of student body cards. The performance will begin at 8:30 p. m. in the Little Theatre.

Staff Promotions Named by Leonard

Promotions in faculty rank for the academic year of 1955-56 were recently announced by College President J. Paul Leonard.

Faculty members from the following divisions were moved from the position of associate professor to that of professor: Mr. John Gutmann, Art-Photography; Dr. Arch Lang and Dr. Constance McCullough, Education; Dr. Joseph Axelrod, Humanities; Mrs. Blanche Ellsworth, Language Arts; Dr. Henry Lindgren, Psychology, and Dr. Jozo Tomasevich, Social Science and Business.

Appointed from assistant professor to associate professor were: Dr. Joel Gustafsen, Biological Science; Dr. William Golden, Extension Field Services; Dr. Aubrey Haan, Dr. Ludwig Immergluck, Dr. Alfred Jensen, Dr. Edith Merritt and Dr. Robert Smith, Education; Dr. Matthews Evans and Dr. Peter Presta, Humanities; Dr. Frederick Feltham, Language Arts; Dr. Edwin Kruth, Music; Mr. William Harkness, Men's Physical Education and Dr. Felton Freeman, Social Science.

Elevated to assistant professors are Miss Marguerite Clifton, Women's Physical Education; Dr. Peggy Heim, Social Science; Dr. George Madison, Business, and Mr. Joseph Miksak, Language Arts.

Ride Required by Victim of Polio

A re-entering student, forced out of college last semester because of a polio attack, needs two rides daily.

The first ride would be from the campus to Mission and Otis streets, 12:30 p. m.

The second ride would be from Mission and Otis to 19th avenue and Ortega at 4 p. m.

Any person or persons who can provide the transportation are urged to contact Frankie Webb, 1862 23rd Ave., San Francisco, or call OV 1-4684.

ENGLISH TEACHERS WILL MEET MARCH 19

At the March 19 Language Arts conference, sponsored by the Central California Council of Teachers of English, Dr. Mortimer Adler will be the main speaker.

In addition to Dr. Adler's address, the conference will feature 17 discussion-workshop sections which will explore topics and problems concerning language arts.

All teachers, administrators and parents are invited to attend the conference, which will be held at San Leandro High School, 2200 Bancroft, San Leandro.

Registration begins at 9 a. m. Saturday, and will be followed by Dr. Adler's address and two discussion sessions. Luncheon will be served at 1 p. m.

Filipino Consul First Speaker

Economics Club Starts Political Lecture Series

N. A. Roxas, Consul General of the Philippine Islands, inaugurated a series of lectures sponsored by the Economics Club.

Reviewing the economic and political history of the Philippines in his March 1 speech, Mr. Roxas emphasized the friendly relations between his country and the United States.

Roxas stated that when the U. S. gave the Philippines their freedom in 1946 "an unparalleled historical event was witnessed by all those who saw General MacArthur lowering the American flag not in surrender or defeat, but in the fulfillment of a pledge."

"Economically," Mr. Roxas continued, "the Philippines are tied to the skirts of the United States since 74 per cent of their exports are sold to the United States."

Before becoming Consul General of the Philippines, Mr. Roxas was the Mayor of Manila and Secretary of the Interior. During the last Philippine presidential campaign, Mr. Roxas was chairman of the panel of speakers supporting President Ramon Magsaysay.

According to Dr. Lantos, Economics Club sponsor, the lecture series is designed to acquaint the students with the economic and political problems of the underdeveloped areas of the world.

The second lecture will be presented by the India Consul General in the Little Theatre on March 22.

June Graduation Will Be Held On State Campus

Following a proposal made by College President J. Paul Leonard, the faculty unanimously voted to hold Commencement exercises on campus Saturday, June 11. In previous years exercises were held at the San Francisco Opera House.

According to Dr. Leonard, on-campus graduation could enhance the dignity of the ceremony and relate exercises more completely to the college.

With commencement occurring on a Saturday, more February graduates, for whom no formal exercises are held, will be able to attend. On-campus graduation will save the college money as the Opera House costs between $750 and $1000 rental.

Under the approved proposal, Commencement Day will begin with Senior Breakfast, Saturday morning, 9 o'clock, in the Student Union.

Preceded by the academic procession at 10:30 a. m., the actual ceremony will take place at 11 a. m. in Cox Stadium. The Senior Luncheon, originally held on a day separate from Commencement, will follow the exercises.

Poet Allen Tate Speaks March 17

Allen Tate, poet and literary critic, will appear in the S. F. State Main Auditorium, Thursday, March 17 at 1 p. m. Mr. Tates' appearance is being sponsored by the Poetry Center and the Associated Students of S. F. State. He will also appear that evening at 8:15 in the Museum of Art, Civic Center.

Mr. Tate has been a free lance writer since 1924; professor, intermittently, at eight colleges; editor of three periodicals; poetry reader and lecturer at 17 universities, including Universities of Rome and Oxford; and author of 15 books since 1928, the latest being "On the Limits of Poetry," Poems: 1922-1947," and "The Forlorn Demon: Critical and Didactic Essays."

Admission to the afternoon program is free. For the evening Museum appearance, admissions are $1 for students and museum members and $1.25 for the general public.—B. L.

SUMMER MUSIC JOBS AT YOSEMITE PARK

Summer jobs at Yosemite National Park will be available to San Francisco State students who are musically inclined. The instruments particularly in demand are: trumpet, clarinet, oboe, french horn, trombone, string bass, viola and violin.

If you can play any of these instruments or can sing and are interested, call or write Blythe Theilen, 2750 Gaynor Ave., Richmond, BEacon 4-5056. Deadline will be March 15.

Alpha Chi Alpha Dance Features Jack Fina

Alpha Chi Alpha sorority held its first annual dinner-dance last Saturdday evening in the Garden Court of the Hotel Claremont.

Jeanne Coakley, publicity chairman of the sorority, said that the success of the dinner-dance encouraged the organization to plan for future such events for the beginning of spring semesters.

Gators Edged in Closing Seconds

Loyola Turns Back State In Heart-Breaker, 57-56

S. F. State's Far Western Conference cage champions missed a trip to Kansas City by 16 seconds Wednesday evening when Loyola of Los Angeles slipped by them in the closing moments of the regional play-off game and won, 57-56. Eight points behind with but four minutes to go, the Lions closed the gap to a three-point margin in the final 16 seconds of play.

SALVINO SCORES TWO

At that point of the game Eddie Salvino of Loyola was fouled and awarded two free throws. Salvino's efforts on the line were successful and the score became 56-55 in favor of the Los Angeles quintet.

Following this, State's pass in was deflected into the hands of Salvino who shot again. His shot missed but the rebound that followed did not. The gun sounded with Loyola on top, 57 to 56.

By virtue of this victory the Lions will participate in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athetics tournament scheduled to be held in Kansas City next week.

CAL POLY LOSES, 84-80

Clearing the path for victory in that encounter were center Bob Leibe, who tallied 27 points and forward Henry Fort, who accounted for 23.

Official Notice

All students who expect to receive credentials at the end of the current semester are required to make application in the Registrar's office on or before March 18, 1955. The application must be accompanied by two sets of fingerprint cards.

All students registered in Education 130 and 150.1 and all other students who expect to receive credentials in January, 1956, are urged to have their fingerprints taken now.

Arrangements have been made for the fingerprints to be taken in Room 166, Administration Building, from March 9 through March 25, 1:30 to 4 p. m. Fingerprints will not be taken at any other time, so please make arrangements to complete this very necessary step on the scheduled dates.

DEADLINE DATES

MARCH 11—Last day for any change of program without fee.

MARCH 11—Last day for dropping a course without penalty for failing work.

MARCH 18—Last day for filing applications for degrees and/or credentials.

Sorority Elects Spring Leaders

She will be assisted by Sunny Sullivan, vice president; Diane Glover. corresponding secretary; Judy King, recording secretary; and Jerry Wright and Paula Wright, treasurers.

Other officers include Eva Cabiati, historian; Sue O'Brien, publicity; Lou Castro and Carol Dietzler, sergeant-at-arms, and Lou Castro and Sigrud Mahl, pledge captains.

At a recent initiation and installation banquet the following new members were welcomed: Eva Cabiati, Maggi Georgi, Mary Jo King, Paula Wright, Louise Hense, Sigrud Mahl, Joan Ruggiero, and Ruth Silge.

Murray Named Prexy

Walt Warren Heads Board of Publications

Walter Warren, former chairman of the Judicial Council, was appointed to the position of representative-at-large over 60 units by the Board of Directors Tuesday.

Replacing newly elected Vice President Robin Dempster, Warren also will assume the chairmanship of the Board of Publications.

Other members of the Board of Publications, selected by ASSFSC President Bob Horn and Editor of the Golden Gater Keith Pinckney, are Ron Byrnes, Dale Christensen, Margo Neilson and Art Daniels, who was an active member of the Board of Publications last semester.

Also appointed at the meeting was Dave Kashubeck as a member of the Board of Control. Kashubeck will replace former BOC member Jack Lynch who resigned this week.

Other action taken by the BOD included the approving of Robin Dempster as vice president of the ASSFSC and Ruben Garcia as activities commissioner.

Dick Laine, chairman of the Election Committee, reported that the dates of April 21 and 22 have been set for the primary election and April 28 and 29 as the final election dates.

Sorority Holds Picnic

Kappa Theta sorority will sponsor a Freshman Picnic on Thursday. March 17, from 7 until 11 p. m., in Sigmund Stern Grove. 19th avenue and Sloat boulevard.

Tickets are 75c a person, and everyone is invited to attend. There will be free food and dancing.

Sororities and Fraternities Permitted as Social Groups

Recent action permitting fraternities and sororities to declare themselves as social groups rather than as the previously required service organizations is a mixed blessing at best.

The action will end a form of pretense by these groups. Many had held outmoded services (changing a picture in an old campus building, for instance). It will probably end the sorry sight of groups which possessed valuable services but tended to ignore those services in favor of the social aspect of their activities.

But, it will have another effect, not easily apparent to the casual observer. It will bring fraternities and sororities one step closer to nationalization. And nationalization would mean the beginning of a heavily socially stratified campus with all the ills that could go with it.

The campus is now protected from such nationalization by a single factor, the Ten-Point plan, which must be a part of each on-campus organization's charter, and which forbids discrimination on the basis of race, creed, or religion.

This plan is already substantially ignored by present fraternities and sororities, and although it exists in writing, it does not exist in fact.

The respect in which the plan is held was made clear to the editors of the '54 Franciscan when a member of a sorority approached one of these editors about a mistake in the yearbook. A picture of a Negro girl had appeared with the pictures of girls in her particular sorority.

"I have nothing against the girl," she said, indignantly, "but this will ruin the name of our sorority." We are afraid that such an attitude is far from nonexistent among present fraternities and sororitites on this campus.

The continuing trend toward nationalization of fraternities and the resulting discrimination and social stratification must be halted. Action permitting social fraternities and sororities is a far cry from halting the trend. It has accelerated it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'Smateren to Chatter'

To Mr. Stephen T. Davis—To whom do you address your rhetoric? Those who are the objects of your cynicism are obviously not receptive to your remarks; your disciples are grinding your ax for you; the innocent bystanders are contemptuous of your disguised shallowness. I suppose it is difficult to go through life without prostituting oneself, but to do so needlessly is an abominable perversion. What price controversy? Provocation for what? If you mean to widen the existing social rifts on campus, you are doing well, particularly in your use of adjectives. You claim to be the spokesman of the thoughtful, the mature: the subscribers of the New Yorker and/or Sapien perhaps.

The name of your column is perhaps suggestive of its content. Webster, fifth edition, defines "smatter" as 'ME. smateren to chatter, prate; to speak so as to reveal a spotty or superficial knowledge." Indeed, it is also tiresome. The writer "with a message" should distinguish between what is eloquent and what is meaningful.

Unfortunately, your banality is furthering the deplorable antagonistic attitudes on campus.

It is readily admissable that factions do exist in this college (as probably elsewhere): there is the P. E. clique, the drama clique, the music clique, et al., each committing social incest.

You see them in small groups at "their" table in the cafeteria, their far-distant corners of the classroom, and you can count the topics of their conversations on the fingers of one hand. Once each clique is formed, it excludes all outside activities, academic or extracurricular.

Now, Mr. Davis, in your fatuous use of your linguistic gift, you are exploiting this situation as the devils' advocate. You are successful inasmuch as you can make-believe that you are truly representative of the so-called "sensitive intellectuals." Your efforts smack of all the sham one finds in North Beach, where tourists flock after they've been to the zoo, to see whole groups of "sensitive artists."

Is it possible to have a healthy interest in one field, e. g. sports, music, drama, without negating the whole range of human activity? Some of us are weary of your persistent pessimism on this point. Indeed, life is not as it ought to be, but we can recognize our foibles without dying of Weltschmerz.

Most of us have yet a few years to live, perhaps not all in vain. Why don't you abandon the sneer and fortify our modest efforts in the years to come? You know the words, now put them to music . . .

FRANK G. HILLER.

Gater Complimented

Editor—I would like to compliment the Golden Gater, its editors and its adviser, for continuing, in the face of criticism from students and "Above," to publish the remarks of Stephen T. Davis.

I do not personally believe that Davis' emotional outbursts are worth the harangue; but I do think that the harangue is worth the emotional outbursts. In other words, the Gater is demonstrating that unpopular criticism such as those of Davis are of "general interest," are of concern to the faculty, students and administration of the college. Davis is right more often than wrong, only because he chooses mainly to criticize that area of the campus which will tolerate no criticism, the "class of 1984." ROBERT E. BURTON.

Clark Thanks Students

Editor—I would like to congratulate the Associated Students on the action of their Board of Control when it decided to sponsor the appearance of Allen Tate March 17th on the campus of San Francisco State.

This support, extended to the Poetry Center, represents a recognition on the part of the Associated Students of responsibilities which go beyond the traditional student activities.

In providing an opportunity for State students to hear one of America's foremost critics and poets, the Associated Students seem to me to have answered most effectively the charges which from time to time have been made, to the effect that the Associated Students have no interest in important matters of the intellect.

NOTHING

(The Sum Total of This Column's Worth)

By HANK CUNNINGHAM

Now you see it, now you don't. That well-known (and well-worn) phrase fairly well sums up the future of this column. As you have by now no doubt discovered, the Golden Gater has become a twice weekly affair and fortunately, especialy for those of us who possess constitutions of a less durable nature, this column has not.

With that reassuring thought in mind may I suggest that you lean back and relax, light up a textbook and read on. I've promised you nothing, and nothing you shall have.

Columnist Depends on Bloodhounds

Every (you should pardon the expression) columnist depends to some extent upon other people for those choice tid-bits of news that make interesting reading. Many of these people are fearless bloodhounds of the news world who gladly brave terrifying dangers to bring home the facts.

I have one such source of news and though he may not exactly be a fearless bloodhound (rumor has it that he is a top dog in the Mafia), he has, nevertheless, shown surprising courage in the past. More than once I have seen him disappear into that fog-shrouded canyon that engulfs the tennis courts, the fields and cinder paths upon which our athletes perform their deeds of wonder. When last week he again descended the stony stairway that leads into the depths of the unknown I knew he would emerge with tid-bits. He did.

'First' in State's Baseball History

The first smashingly interesting story has to do with a "first" in the annals of S. F. State baseball history. The new baseball park is, to say the least, large. From home plate to the centerfield wall measures some 380 feet, which, as any self-respecting baseball knows, is quite a distance to travel. However, one such baseball did make the trip, courtesy of Stan Korich, State's centerfielder.

Stan cooled this one during batting practice and according to "Snoop" . . . oops! pardon me, I mean according to "Scoop," my news source, the ball cleared the fence by some 20 feet. 'Twas a mighty wallop to be sure.

'Battered Bob' Is Clobbered Again

Story number two has to do with a guy by the name of Bob Quattrin, third baseman for the local nine. It seems this lad has an astounding talent for getting clobbered at least once during the first game of every season. This year the Gators opened their diamond devilry against the Alumni and for six blissful innings it looked as though old "Battered Bob" was going to beat the jinx. But only for six innings.

Came inning number seven, Bob singled and made it to second, only to be caught between second and third when a teammate grounded to the infield.

Just when it looked as though the end had come, Bob La Costa, Gator shortstop of last year, rifled the ball to the third baseman. Somewhere between La Costa's hand and the ball's intended destination, Quattrin's head got in the way. Oh well, maybe next year . . .

Tough Schedule, Loss of Veterans Leaves Coach Smiling Anyway

This is the first in a series of two articles dealing with San Francisco State's 1955 baseball prospects.

By LEROY PACINI, Golden Gater Sports Writer

Baseball Coach Dick Boyle is smiling nowadays. It wasn't so just one short week ago. He had looked over the toughest schedule any baseball coach at State had ever been ambitious enough to undertake.

He then looked at his roster and discovered that he had lost eight vets, that only 24 men had come out for baseball, and that of these 24 stalwarts, he could list only one as a senior. There were nine juniors, eight sophomores and six freshmen.

VARSITY TIMBER

Not until the boys actually took to the field did he discover that virtually all 24 turnouts were varsity timber, and that most of the freshmen and sophomores were actually ex-service men returning to college and loaded with experience.

It has now developed that Boyle boasts as well balanced a club as he has ever fielded, and that this season's squad is potentially the strongest ever to perform for State.

PITCHING MAY PREVAIL

If one phase of the game prevails over the others, it will be in the pitching department. The only loss to the mound corps is in the person of John Kalberer, a nifty right-hander with a bad back and poor luck.

Lanky John pitched irregularly last season and could post no better than an 0-2 record, but hung up a brilliant 1.80 E.R.A. He has finally decided to hang 'em up because of his chronic bad back.

MOUND STAFF RETURNS

Outside of Kalberer, the entire staff from last season returns. Big junior "Lefty" Clint Lee (4-3, 3.18), who worked a total of better than half of the innings State played last season, is back. He should team with junior right-hander Joel Heckmann (4-3, 4.16) to form one of the best one-two punches in Northern California.

This same pair combined to throw a no-hitter against the California Bears last season, while Heckmann beat the Blues as a freshman. With more rest, Lee should be outstanding.

FRESHMAN SENSATION

Elmer "Mokey" Clawson, freshman sensation of last year (4-0, 1.85), who specialized in relief work and saved many more games than his win column indicates, is stronger, faster, and may be able to take over starting chores, thereby taking the strain off Lee and Heckmann.

Among the newcomers, Boyle lists freshman "Lefty" Bob Beach of San Leandro High, as the most promising. Other pitchers who may bolster the mound staff are freshman basketballer Garry Kenny, a returning serviceman and former Balboa High star; Don Lucas, junior transfer from Marysville J. C.; and Howie Adams, a control artist up from the JVs, where he performed brilliantly last year.

(To be concluded next week)

Baseball Team Meets Stanford, CCSF Next Week

S. F. State's diamond squad will play two games next week when, first, they journey to Palo Alto to meet the Indians of Stanford University on Monday, March 7, and then, three day later, they clash with City College of San Francisco on the Gator field.

Stanford, whose team last year copped second place in the league standings, claims to have an improved team this year, despite the fact that they lost their first game of the season.

WEAK-HITTING INDIANS

Though the Indians are weak in the hitting department, they boast a good pitching staff which will be able to rely upon the support of a tight-fielding ball club.

Probable starting hurler for Stanford will be senior Ray Young. Two other senior starters for the Redskins are Rich Scramaglia, shortstop, and Len Schwartz, catcher. Scramaglia is team captain.

JVs Close Year With 12-6 Record

Last week end the JV hoopsters brought their season to a victorious close when they defeated the Oakland Naval Air Station by a score of 72 to 54 on Friday night and followed this with a 77-45 triumph over Jefferson High School the following evening.

In what Coach Rowen termed "their best game of the season," the Junior Gators finished the 1954-55 basketball season with a record of 12 wins and six losses.

Spring Opera Company Meets Standards Without Names

By ROBERT M. KLANG

The Cosmopolitan Opera will end its San Francisco engagement this evening with "Madama Butterfly." And when the company leaves, it will take with it something that these days is quite rare in the realm of cultural activities: opera at reasonable prices.

If there is anything that has caused any amount of disinterest toward live opera in the United States in recent years it is the $6 or $7 one must pay to get a fairly decent seat for a performance by such opera companies as the Metropolitan or San Francisco.

There are few families that will invest $20 to $30 for a night at the opera. (This is why, as each year passes, we see fewer and fewer children at the Fall season performances.)

Because Cosmopolitan choice seats are $3 it does not mean that its performance standards are far below those of the well-known companies. Often the only real difference is the appearance of an artist who has not had the publicity of a well-known Metropolitan star.

Last Friday evening's performance of "La Boheme" we thought brilliant, Lucia Evangelista's "Mimi" and Davis Cunningham's "Rodolpho" were especially fine. It is not often that one hears Rodolpho's magnificent aria "Che gelida manina" and his and Mimi's duet "O soave fanciulla" sung with such impeccable feeling for Puccini's lyrical brilliance. And throughout the entire performance there was fine balance between the singers and the orchestra.

Our only real complaint is that in the places where Puccini calls for volume to appeal violently to the audience's emotions, singers were a little weak. This made us a little uncomfortable for we knew that we were not getting quite all that is in the score. Aside from this it was a fine performance.

MUSIC CLUB MEMBERS ATTEND ETHNIC NIGHT

CITY COLLEGE CONTEST

CCSF will have to rely on talents of the untried when they meet the Gators on March 10, for only five members of last year's squad have returned for the 1955 season. All five will see action in the infield. They are, Rich Bandetine, first baseman; Dave Negherbon, shortstop, Bob Mannini, catcher, and pitchers Jim Hetchel and John Pully.

Listed as newcomers to the City College roster are Sam Chicos, Steve Gallagher, Larry Misim, and Ray Warman, all striving for pitching berths. Kim Deto and Jim Poppin will act as reserve catchers.

ONLY FOUR OUTFIELDERS

Only four men are labeled as outfield prospects to date and they are Don De Suzille, Jerry Green, Stan Johnson and Jim Nelson.

For the Gators, the probable starting line-up for the two games will find either Heckmann or Lee on the mound, Bill Conley, catcher; Bob Beach first base; Tom Murphy, second base; Bob Quattrin, third base, and Booker Jackson, shortstop.

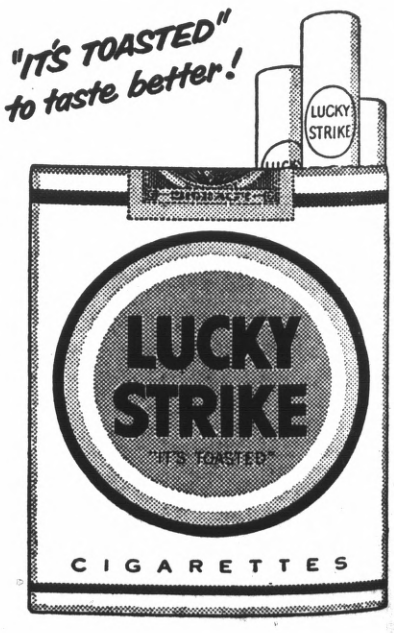
IN THE DARK about which cigarette to smoke? Take a hint from the Droodle above, titled: Two searchlight crews, one asleep, one enjoying better-tasting Luckies. Your search is over when you light up a Lucky. You'll find out why college smokers prefer Luckies to all other brands, as shown by the latest, greatest college survey. Once again, the No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, enjoy the better-tasting cigarette . . . Lucky Strike.

"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!



Better taste Luckies...
